

Lower-secondary Stage

1st to 3rd class in the Lower-secondary Stage
(9th to 11th school year)

The lower-secondary stage is structured in three requirement levels:

Requirements of Sec B (Basic requirements)

The students prepare for a professional apprenticeship with fundamental or basic requirements. Sec B takes three years.

Requirements of Sec E (Advanced requirements)

The students prepare for an apprenticeship with higher professional requirements (with/without vocational diploma). In individual cases a transfer to high school is possible. Sec E takes three years.

The last year (11th) of state school

The 11th year in school gives particular consideration to the individual's talents and specifically prepares the student for the professional life to come. In the last quarter of the second class in secondary school, the assessment meeting is held. There the binding objectives are agreed and selection for the 11th school year is made.

Completion of mandatory schooling

At the end of mandatory schooling, the students are awarded the certificate of completion. It provides information on achieved performance.

Requirements of Sec P (Stringent requirements)

The secondary level P takes two years. The students prepare for entry into the high school. This concludes after four years with the Matura and serves as preparation for university studies.

Welcome to the State Schools of Solothurn

The state schools of canton Solothurn have the challenging task of teaching children and young people elementary knowledge and skills to assist them in their development to become independent personalities.

For this task to be fulfilled, the school needs the support of the whole society. Good cooperation between school and home is important for success in school and development of the child.

My best wishes are with the children and young people on their way in their educational and vocational future.

Nursery is the first stage of state school. Children enter after their fourth birthday. After consultation with the school administration, the parents can decide if their child should, as an exception, be enrolled in school a year later. Earlier enrollment is impossible.

In nursery school the child learns through play to:

- broaden his zone of experience and existence;
- become independent;
- move within a peer group;
- contribute something to the community.

After nursery, the children transfer over to the 1st class of primary school. The transition is accompanied by nursery school, primary school and parents.

(3rd to 8th school year)

The primary school:

- takes six years
- creates the basis for targeted learning
- promotes intellectual, artistic and physical capabilities
- supports and promotes community education
- supports and encourages independent and responsible action.

French is taught as a first foreign language from the third class, with English, as a second, from the fifth.

The achievements in the subjects will be graded and recorded on the certificate. The achievements in work, learning and social behaviours are evaluated and recorded on the certificate. The primary school has no promotional conditions. The children are automatically promoted to the next higher class.

The transfer process for the lower-secondary stage is regulated by the canton.
